Re: Letter of Support for Joyce Treulieb, Associate Professor of Math, Steamboat Springs

I highly recommend and endorse Joyce Treulieb for faculty promotion from associate to full professor of math at Colorado Mountain College. Joyce has shown excellence in teaching and service to the college. Amazingly, she published a Calculus textbook during her sabbatical, and has developed and written a compendium of math curriculum informing co-requisites for specific math courses.

Joyce supplies transformational experiences for students through teaching excellence. She has consistently received high praise on IDEA evaluations from students. Her classroom observations show teaching ability in math. Joyce has implemented modern teaching and learning strategies and techniques needed during Covid-19. Utilizing new modalities, Joyce has become a more well-rounded professor.

Joyce is actively involved in service to the discipline. During the summer of 2020, she took part in a summer project to develop corequisite classes for Math for Liberal Arts, College Algebra, and Statistics. She developed a syllabus template and the assessed outcomes that became a 149-page document. She has kept up to date on math education by attending the ORMATYC conference, as well as other trainings such as Trauma-informed Pedagogy Workshop.

Joyce is committed to providing thoughtful and caring service to students via tutoring outside of regular office hours, advising at SOAR, helping with the rock-climbing club and the engineering club. In addition, Joyce has served as senator for college-wide faculty senate and continues in that role.

In closing, Joyce Treulieb is an asset to Colorado Mountain College and to the Steamboat Campus. She is positive and engaged in all aspects of faculty work, very student focused, and incredibly intelligent. I highly recommend her for faculty promotion to full professor.

Sincerely,
J.C. Norling
