POLARIS Alaskan Malamute Rescue is an independently run member of the national Alaskan Malamute Rescue network: AMAL (Alaskan Malamute Assistance League). We cover the states of Colorado and New Mexico for providing breed rescue services which include: surrender, foster adoption & public education. An essential part of our efforts is evaluating potential dogs to take in and assessing potential adopter families.

Joyce Treulieb has been a great help in assisting in these activities and her efforts in her area allow us to bring in dogs that are adoptable and provide us with the ability to match potential families with the "right malamute" in order to result in a "forever home." -That is the essence of dog rescue!

-Thanks for your support of rescue!
